lifeguards, and firefighters, addressing homelessness, and ensuring employee compensation is competitive to fill vacancies in key roles that deliver critical services to San Diegans.

- Some highlights include:
 - Homelessness: an additional $13.6 million dedicated to increasing shelter capacity, services and coordinated street outreach (total funding for homelessness services is $63.3 million in this budget with two-thirds of that sum coming from state and federal grant programs)
 - Public safety: this year's proposal invests in facilities, recruitment, police overtime and gang prevention. The City is currently in contract negotiations with the public safety bargaining units for police, firefighters, and lifeguards. The proposed budget anticipates salary increases which will be included in the final budget.
 - Street Repair: dedicates over $77 million to street resurfacing (an increase of $27.6 million over the current annual budget) and adds $8 million to improve streets with upgraded traffic signals, sidewalks and curb ramps, traffic management, tree maintenance and graffiti and weed removal
 - Parks & Recreation: additional $4.3 million dedicated to recruitment and training of Park & Recreation workers to address high staff turnover and vacancies by converting hourly staff to salaried positions
 - Stormwater: $8.8 million to prepare for a major stormwater infrastructure overhaul (pump station repairs, additional street sweeping, and education to avoid common inadvertent pollution)
