STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Advise the City of San Diego (City) Commission for Arts and Culture (Commission) to recommend the slate of Commission Advisory Panelist candidates to evaluate proposals submitted in response to the fiscal year 2025 OSP and CCSD Application, Part 2.

BACKGROUND

According to the Commission's Rules and Regulations, the Commission may establish advisory panels to augment the work of the committees, to support goals of the Commission, to provide opportunities for community members to participate in City processes, and to utilize the input and feedback of panelists in the funding processes. When a Commission Advisory Panel is to be established, the Commission will recommend members of advisory panels after reviewing a slate of candidates presented by staff.

Panelists from FY21-FY24 approved candidate pool may also be called upon to serve in FY25 panels. This report includes approved candidates who applied for the FY21 through FY24 candidate pool. Staff no longer anticipates retiring panelists from the approved pool after three years to ensure there is a diversity of candidates (e.g., council district areas, skill sets, areas of expertise) to draw from for particular panel assignment needs, which changes from year to year depending on the proposals submitted in response to OSP and CCSD Application, Part 2.

To prepare the slate of proposed Commission Advisory Panelist Candidates, staff drew from a pool of nominations obtained through an open call for self-nominations and third-party nominations, a review of individuals who have previously served on Commission committees or panels, and a review of individuals who have field expertise in non-profit management, artistic disciplines, philanthropy or community engagement.

The nominees have been pre-screened to prevent conflicts of interest.

NEXT STEPS

Following the Policy & Funding Committee's recommendation of the slate, the slate will then go to the Commission for recommendation. Staff will then coordinate panel assignments considering panelist availability, panel size, conflicts of interest, and a balanced representation of council district areas, skill sets, areas of expertise, prior history of serving as a panelist, etc. To this end, some recommended candidates may not be assigned to a panel, some panelists may be assigned the role of understudy to assist if other panelists drop out, and some will not serve on a panel this year but will remain in the approved pool for future consideration without the need to reapply. City staff may also assign individuals from the FY21-FY24 approved candidate pool to an FY25 panel.

Alan	Harrison	501 (C) (3) Guru	Owner	Alan Harrison is a writer, father, performer, nonprofit executive, artist, and soon, a published author (in no particular order). His book, "Scene Change: Why Nonprofit Arts Organizations Must Stop Producing Art and Start Producing Impact," will be published in 2023 by Changemakers Books. For the past 30 years, he has led, produced, directed, promoted, raised money for, starred and failed in over 300 theatrical productions on and Off-Broadway and at prestigious (and not so prestigious) nonprofit arts organizations across the country. He's also a two-time Jeopardy! champion so, you know, there's that. The arts invoke passion (mostly from artists), but nonprofit arts are only successful when they result in measurably positive change among those that need it most. When a nonprofit's donors are also its recipients, then its mission devolves into meaningless puffery, flapdoodle, and codswallop.
Alyssa	Junious	Continuum Arts & Pilates / Soultry Sisters / William Male Foundation	Pilates Practitioner, Choreographer, Dance & Theater Performing Artist, Teaching Artist	My name is Alyssa "Ajay" Junious, and I am a San Diego-based artist, educator, and creative entrepreneur. I have worked professionally as a performance artist for the past 10+ years. My local performance credits include La Jolla Playhouse, Cygnet Theater, San Diego Musical Theater, New Village Arts, Oceanside Theater Company, Teatro San Diego, San Diego Dance Theater, PGK Dance Project, and Continuum. As a community centered artist, I have collaborated and partnered with various arts organizations to facilitate arts engagement events and community workshops, and public performances. Credits include Oceanside Public Library, Mingei Museum, LUX Art Institute, New Village Arts, Hill Street Country Club, Mira Costa College, SDSU, SouthWestern College, Art Produce, Oceanside Museum of Art, and Disco Riot. I value connecting artists with resources and building collaborative social capital. I practice that value by serving on Rising Arts Leader's steering committee and William Male Foundation's grant selection committee. The common thread in all that I do is connecting people through community-based arts and wellness experiences.
Amy	Miller	California Academy of Sciences	Interim Dean of Education; Director of Public Programs and Academy Volunteers	Amy Miller has led public programs at the California Academy of Sciences for more than a decade. In the dean role Amy supports the larger education division including teacher and student education and youth engagement programs.
Andrea	Mota	The Blue Azul Collection	Gallery Owner	I am the owner of The Blue Azul Collection art gallery and originally opened in La Jolla, moved to Mission Hills and settled in Little Italy. I have always worked well with people from all walks of life and one day I opened an art gallery because I like traveling and exploring all things creative. I often look for hidden gems in all the places I visit. I also work well collaboratively with artists and enjoy putting on art exhibits/installations and having conversations with the public, clients, artists and anyone who shows a genuine interest in art. I enjoy attending art exhibitions in both galleries, museums, local art events and others because I believe when supporting the arts is caring for the communities we live in. I am also an art patron, enjoy sharing my passion for the arts and supporting artists.

Adam	Greene	Independent Artist	Composer/Scholar	Adam Greene (b. 1970) is a composer and writer whose creative work references interests in literature, linguistics, and cognitive science in music that explores multiplicity, fragility, and instability, often through intensive examination of instrumental practice. He has received grants and awards from The Fromm Music Foundation at Harvard, ASCAP, NACUSA, The Center for Cultural Innovation (CCI), The American Music Center, and The American Composers Forum. His music has been played by the San Diego Symphony, SONOR, NOISE Ensemble, the Formalist Quartet, Speculum Musicae, and Ensemble Resonanz, and counts his work with several soloists as particularly critical in developing his approach to instrumental writing. He has participated in several festivals and residency programs that have featured his works, such as UCROSS, ACO EarShot, the soundON Festival of Modern Music, the International Ferienkurse für Neue Musik (Darmstadt), the Composers Conference at Wellesley, the Summer Institute for Contemporary Piano Performance (at the New England Conservatory of Music), and the Long Beach Summer Arts program. His compositions appear on recordings from Aucourant Records and Chen Li Music.  Originally trained in music as a guitarist, Greene pursued early studies in Anthropology and creative writing before committing himself to composition. He holds degrees in Music and Anthropology from Connecticut College, and earned a Master's in Composition at the New England Conservatory of Music. He then studied in Italy before moving to California, where, at UC San Diego, he received the Ph.D.

Deonté	Griffin-Quick	New Jersey Theatre Alliance	Manager of Programs and Services	Deonté Griffin-Quick is an emerging, visionary arts leader with extensive experience in state-wide program management, non-profit theatre administration, digital communications, and theatre producing. He is committed to the advancement of professional American theatre while advocating for diversity and equity in the arts. Currently, Deonté serves as the Manager of Programs and Services at New Jersey Theatre Alliance. In an effort to connect, empower, and cultivate other arts and cultural leaders of color, in 2019 Deonté developed and spearheaded the New Jersey Arts and Culture Administrators of Color Network. He was recently honored by the National Assembly of State Arts Agencies with the Inaugural Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Individual Award. He has served as a grant panelist for Alternate ROOTS, the Mississippi Center for Cultural Production, and county arts agencies.
Eddie	Matthews	Point Loma Nazarene University	Instructional Designer and Adjunct Professor	My name is Eddie Matthews, I moved to San Diego in 2011 for college and fell in love with the city. During my undergraduate degree at Point Loma Nazarene University, I interned at the San Diego Union Tribune and learned about the artistic communities that comprised San Diego's identity, eventually writing a Sunday Arts profile of the jazz program at Francis Parker School. In 2016, while pursuing an M.A. in Education, I researched the learning barriers facing high schoolers in City Heights and outlined solutions in my thesis. To better understand the artistic process, I enrolled in a Ph.D. in Creative Writing program at Swansea University, in Wales, and wrote my dissertation novel about the economic disparities between Tijuana and San Diego. I worked as an editor and marketing officer at the Welsh independent publisher, Parthian Books, where I edited Ironopolis, a novel that was nominated for the Orwell Prize for Political Fiction. While in Swansea, I also worked for the Cultural Institute, a branch of the university devoted to enriching Welsh culture and amplifying Welsh voices both internally and abroad. I would like to do the same for San Diego. I believe that we can build a stronger artistic community by discovering new voices and commissioning projects that strengthen collaborations between San Diego and Tijuana, working to unify the artistic centers of these two cities into one San Diego-Tijuana community. This would be my priority if I were chosen as a panelist.

Neha	Patel	Naad Studios	Founder and Artistic Director, Naad Studios	With more than 35 years of experience in performing &amp; teaching, Neha Patel is a skilled Bharatanatyam and Kathak virtuoso who has carved a niche for herself in San Diego and abroad. She is most notably known for her stylized and fluid grace, thoughtful and sensitive rhythmic sense, expression, and complex choreographies. Neha graduated from the world-renowned Darpana Academy of Performing Arts in Ahmedabad, founded by the legendary Mrinalini Sarabhai, and has earned the title "Natya Bhushan." She is also trained in rare folk-art forms of India &amp; theater. Neha has been able to positively impact the community of San Diego and the lives of her students through a teaching philosophy that nurtures students while also upholding high standards of dedication and learning. She excels in breaking down the intricate nuances of the art form in ways that children can understand and providing the guidance necessary to help students of all levels meet the physical and mental challenges of Indian dance. Under her guidance, children have developed the skills necessary to earn diplomas in Indian dance styles. She is the founder of "Antarnaad" in 1996 in Chicago, IL which later spurred the creation of "Naad Studios" in San Diego and Temecula. Neha and her students regularly perform in major cultural events in southern California and abroad. Neha's extensive training in the theater is apparent through her involvement with award-winning stage dramas and educational documentaries that helped educate rural tribes in Gujarat. Many of Neha's performances as both an actress and a dancer were broadcast on local &amp; national television in India. Neha conducts lecture-demonstration &amp; teaches at for-profit and nonprofit organizations, schools, universities, international museums, religious conferences, and various dance festivals in the USA, India &amp; worldwide. Also, she has served as a judge in many dance competitions in the USA and abroad. Neha is currently a board member of the management committee of IFAASD (Indian Fine Arts Academy, San Diego) and served as cultural chair of FIA (Federation of India Association, San Diego) &amp; House of India, Balboa Park. She has been an integral part of organizing cultural concerts and fundraising events for the San Diego community. She was just featured in the online magazine SD voyager - shout-out series. Neha's passion for these sacred art forms and her relentless efforts to teach has earned her profound respect in Southern California and is a valued role model in the eyes of her students globally. Website: www.thenaadstudios.com  Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/NaadStudiossd/  Yelp : https://www.yelp.com/biz/naad-studios-san-diego
